Biography

Katherine Atkinson - Head of Information & Intelligence, Early Help & Preventative Services , Education & Young People's Service, KCC

Katherine Atkinson has been the Head of Information and Intelligence for Education and Young People's Services (EYPS) since November 2014. She has responsibility for: EYPS Management Information and Service Development teams; Early Help and Preventative Services Improvement teams for open access (children's centres and youth hubs), intensive support, youth justice and inclusion and attendance; and the Early Help Triage team, the 'front-door' to Early Help services in Kent.

Katherine has previously managed the Management Information team in EYPS and prior to that managed the reporting and analysis functions of Management Information across both Education and Specialist Children's Services. She has worked as an analyst in both the private and public sector, and for a number of years in KCC whilst working in Management Information was actively involved with the National Consortium for Examination Results (NCER), working as their Development Officer, developing reports for their performance reporting systems, used by every local authority in the country.
